Dear LuLu,

I'm following up on our previous conversations regarding the Xfinity phone service under ARIBIA LLC, which has now been shut off due to non-payment. I understand from your earlier communication that you expressed concerns about paying me directly and stated you would only make the payment directly to Xfinity.

To facilitate that, I've provided the Xfinity Quick Pay information below, allowing you to settle the past-due balance directly with Xfinity:

- Link: Xfinity Quick Pay
- Phone number: 904-309-3623
- Zip code: 60613
- Amount Due: $339.42

This issue is directly affecting ARIBIA LLC's ability to operate efficiently, as the business lines tied to this account are critical for our daily operations.

There is now no barrier to resolving this issue, and payment can be made directly, as per your request. Please confirm once this has been done so that service can be restored and further disruptions to business operations can be avoided.

I look forward to your prompt action on this matter so that we can resolve this issue without further disruption.

Best regards,
Nicholas Bianchi

Due to your lack of honesty, I don't feel comfortable paying you for the phone's service and then I'd get surprised that "magically" we don't have service

Please give me access to the Xfinity portal so I can make a direct payment to them.

Also, once again, give us our original phones back

Thanks

LuLu Arias

Hi LuLu,

I want to remind you that the phone bill is due tomorrow (September 6th), and we're still awaiting your decision on how you'd like to handle the devices/service. To reiterate, you have the following options:

1. Transfer the lines to your own Xfinity Home account.
2. Return the devices to the business, and we will take responsibility for handling the lines.
3. Pay off the devices, allowing you to transfer them to any carrier (required by Xfinity to unlock them).
4. Sign up for an Xfinity NOW prepaid internet account. This might allow you to transfer the devices without paying them off, but I suggest confirming directly with Xfinity. I spent 2 hours today trying to get an answer to make this transition as easy and painless as possible for you, but after several conversations, Xfinity confirmed that you'd have to initiate the transfer process yourself. Unfortunately, I had to move on to other business matters.

Important: I'm not sure how quickly Xfinity will shut off the phone lines if the bill isn't paid by tomorrow, so it's urgent to settle this now.

Here is an itemized breakdown of the phone bills for you and Ale:

LuLu's Portion:

- Service Cost: $28.00
- Device Payment: $46.49
- Taxes & Fees: k6.56
- Device Credit: -$29.16

Total Due: $51.8k

- Since you mistakenly paid for the internet and not the phone, you have a $25.00 credit, bringing your total due to $26.89.

Ale's Portion:

- Service Cost: $28.00
- Device Payment: $34.58
- Taxes & Fees: $6.56
- Device Credit: -$25.00

Total Due: $44.14

The payment is due by 9/6 to avoid any service disruption. I understand there are a few options on the table for handling the devices, but this will buy you some time to finalize that decision.
